AWAEM

ACADEMY FOR WOMEN IN ACADEMIC EM

✿ LISTEN, ADVOCATE ✿

AWAEM was established in 2009 to promote the recruitment, retention, advancement and leadership of women in academic emergency medicine. We provide a support network and faculty development to facilitate mentoring and research collaboration and to address the unique needs of women in academic emergency medicine. We work to meet the challenges of health care by enhancing teams that include women physicians because their ideas, skills, interests, and creativity are essential to success. The success of academic emergency medicine and the ability of the specialty to train future emergency physicians are intrinsically linked with the success of women faculty as they now represent half of the medical student body and almost half of physicians.

REGIONAL MENTOR NETWORK

As part of our mission to provide a forum for members to network, collaborate on educational initiatives, develop policy, perform research, and to promote faculty development as it relates to women in academic emergency medicine, we have established a Regional Mentor Network. Mentors are assigned for each SAEM-defined region and are committed to represent and guide you, make your voice heard, and build a stronger networking community for women in academic emergency medicine. We also provide a representative at each SAEM Regional Meeting. Contact Laura Medford-Davis, MD (medford.davis@gmail.com) for more information and to discover events in your region!
